To Fred & Vicki Wiegand, who celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary this weekend. May God continue to bless you in many more years to come!

“Recognizing the Other”

All are welcome to a dinner discussion Thurs., Sept. 7 beginning at 6 p.m. Guided by a panel of six religious leaders of Jewish Muslim and Christian faith, guests will move beyond understanding to a more meaningful encounter with someone considered “the other.” As Pope Francis has asked for the people of God to create a culture of encounter and accompaniment, we hope you’ll consider this opportunity to join others at the Chiara Center, at 4875 LaVerna Road, Springfield. A Mediterranean dinner will be served. RSVP required by Sept. 3, $20/person. Call (217) 523-0901 or email info@chiaracenter.org.

Reflecting on the Word

“Why do bad things happen . . . To me, to those I love, to good people, in the world?” How often I’ve asked these questions. We prefer life without suffering, sadness or hardship, an ultragentle baby-shampoo, a no-tears life. However, life does include hardship. “It is what it is,” as some say. I ask, “What really is?” Jesus proclaims that suffering, pain, evil and death do not have the last word; the Son of Man will come with his angels in his Father’s glory and repay all according to their conduct. Taken from “Living the Word”, Scripture Reflections
